ABOUT KILLIECRANKIE HOUSE

Killiecrankie House is a fine dining restaurant with rooms, set in idyllic Highland Perthshire. Owners, chef Tom and his sommelier wife Matilda, have created a little slice of luxury and gastronomy in the Cairngorm National Park.

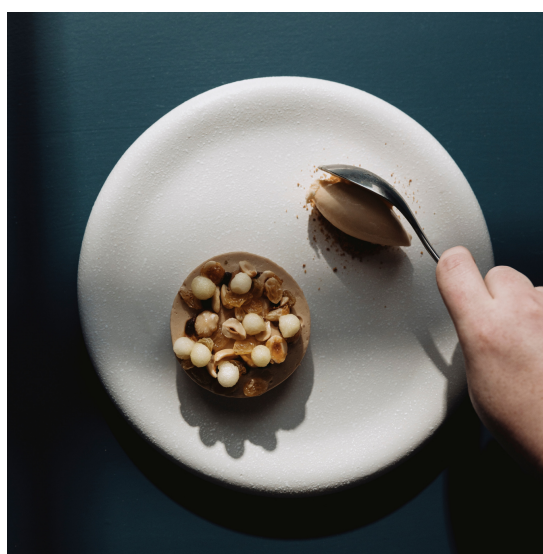

At the heart of the experience is the restaurant, which is committed to creating menus that truly reflect Scotland; using the best of local produce as well as drawing inspiration from both contemporary and heritage national dishes. It has an open kitchen and seats 24 people.

Beyond the restaurant, there are five beautifully appointed ensuite bedrooms, all with superking four-poster beds and indulgent freestanding baths and rainfall showers.

The mid-century style lounge seats 14, and features a vintage record player and Tom's collection of fine dining cookery books. The lavish art deco bar, with its pink Murano glass chandeliers, and curated Scottish cocktail and whisky list, seats a further 8 guests.
